

Rwanda: A Tale of One Man's Courage in the Face of Genocide

Carl Wilkens
Speaker and Author

As presented on December 2, 2020.

Key Takeaways*

- This presentation will invite you back to the 1994 genocide against the Tutsi where more than 1 million innocent lives will be destroyed.
- The story is told through the lens of the Wilkens family, and the challenges and decisions they were confronted with. There is a brief series of snapshots explaining the relationships Wilkens formed - sometimes with perpetrators, and the work Wilkens and his Rwandan colleagues did during the genocide.
- Three initiatives will be unpacked that were strategically used by the Rwandan government as they courageously worked toward providing a habitat where survivors, perpetrators and bystanders could put the pieces of their lives back together and in many cases even thrive.
- Lastly a discussion of a sampling of tools, practices, and mindsets from Rwanda's experience that can make a difference in our lives, wherever we live.

For more information, visit Carl's website: www.worldoutsidemys shoes.org

You can access a recording of the webinar here: www.youtube.com

The Indiana Council on World Affairs, the Nebraska World Affairs Council, and the Tennessee World Affairs Council sponsored this event.

Disclaimer: The views expressed in these presentations are those of our guest speakers and are not intended to represent the views or position of the Indiana Council on World Affairs, its board or members.*